BlockchainCompany Ltd, is the holding company for three main tokenized MVP utilities, including their interoperable applications, all of which aim to tap into multi-trillion-dollar markets, post-COVID-19. These projects include

1. Blockabase – the world’s first tokenized search engine of its kind,
2. BiCstreet – geophysical co-trading spaces similar to coworking, including an online financial, technology & legal social utility, and
3. Blockchain Valley – a sandboxed ecommerce utility platform and geophysical smart community, focusing specifically on 4th industrial revolution technologies.

Blockchain Valley will be submitted for French SEC "AMF" ICO regulated approval after the Blockchain Company STO.

The Company already conducted two successful seed rounds over the last two years, raising EUR 2.5 million at a valuation of EUR 25 million from a family office. With the equity security token offering, it aims to raise EUR 10 million from Institutional Investors & HNWI's. This regulated STO equity sale, will help accelerate Blockchain Company's product launches, revenue monetization, sales and marketing, and ultimate utility token listings.

Blockchain Company has innovated token economic dynamics that are embedded deeply into the DNA of its utilities. By building accessible tokenized platforms, the company hopes to make them more egalitarian for consumers, while helping humanize technology.

Investors who participate in Blockchain Company's Security Token Offering can take future exits on Archax Digital Asset Exchange when listed. Archax when fully launched, is a leading UK FCA regulated exchange, focusing on institutional investments. Blockchain Company STO investors will also benefit from pro-rata utility tokens, when distributed from what percent the company retains. This provides further incentives to invest.
