ABOUT US

Imagine a space where members can meet investors and traders, all with different skills and financial markets expertise. Imagine its scalable digital utility that helps with financial sales to millennials who are going to need help to grow their lifetime wealth...

CAPE TOWN

BICstreet creates professional social member spaces and a digital utility for today's diverse and dispersed global community of investors to come together under one roof with the core long-term goal of becoming a specialized peer to peer co-trading network, dedicated for anyone with a passion for technology and financial markets.

SUMMARY

are designed to have an atmosphere of sophistication and lifestyle comfort, with a wide variety of products and services available on location that are there to help our members become intelligent and sophisticated investors or traders.

Conversational Spaces

At each location, members can enjoy all the basic comforts they expect, such as food and drinks, intimate conversational couch areas, traders desks and high speed internet connectivity.

Moreover, each social space will include multiple “meeting rooms” that can be used, and can be reserved by members and outside parties that want to host professional events. Professional non-members can also book their evening talk events for free!

We are dedicated to constant innovation in order to offer our members ever improving services and facilities.

We want to be able to inspire everyone in our community, so we've created membership plans that will suit any kind of investor, business, trader or professional, novice, experienced, growth or high net worth individuals.

As BICstreet's ecosystem expands, high quality services such as broadcast media, p2p knowledge transfer, special finance-oriented services, technology, news feeds, access to realtime data, cost effective research materials and trading tools will be made available to members.

The first physical location opened in Cape Town, South Africa, and hosted several events. We are currently hosting webinars with wealth management professionals whilst the digital utility is in development. Find information on the current events on our LinkedIn page.

SPACES

WORKFLOW PROCESS

BICstreet will initially kickstart from our Cape Town location, then we shall expand our presence gradually and globally. Cape Town will function as a cost-effective pilot project that aligns with the company's strategic growth and development around the world. An Initial Exchange Offering(IEO) will launch in the future.

Free to Paid Talks, Events & Presentations

How This Works

Corporates can book our spaces for daytime events and breakfast meetings at a cost. Professional Non-Members, Startups and Entrepreneurs can book our spaces for “FREE” between 6pm and 10pm on a first come basis, from Monday to Friday (we reserve our rights of refusal). We want to learn from you too! Invite your business or consumer network and come talk about almost any subject matter @Bicstreet!

BICSTREET DIGITAL

- Provide a meaningful and safe Social Network Platform to connect normal users with companies, financial experts and investors under a subscription fee. Users can follow experts they like and experts gain new clients seamlessly.
- Unlock untapped sources of value through, for example, peer-to-peer interactions, global collaboration, extraction of domain knowledge, mentorship programs, information sharing, education and networking.
- Additionally, members will have the possibility to host and have exclusive access to high-quality webinars.

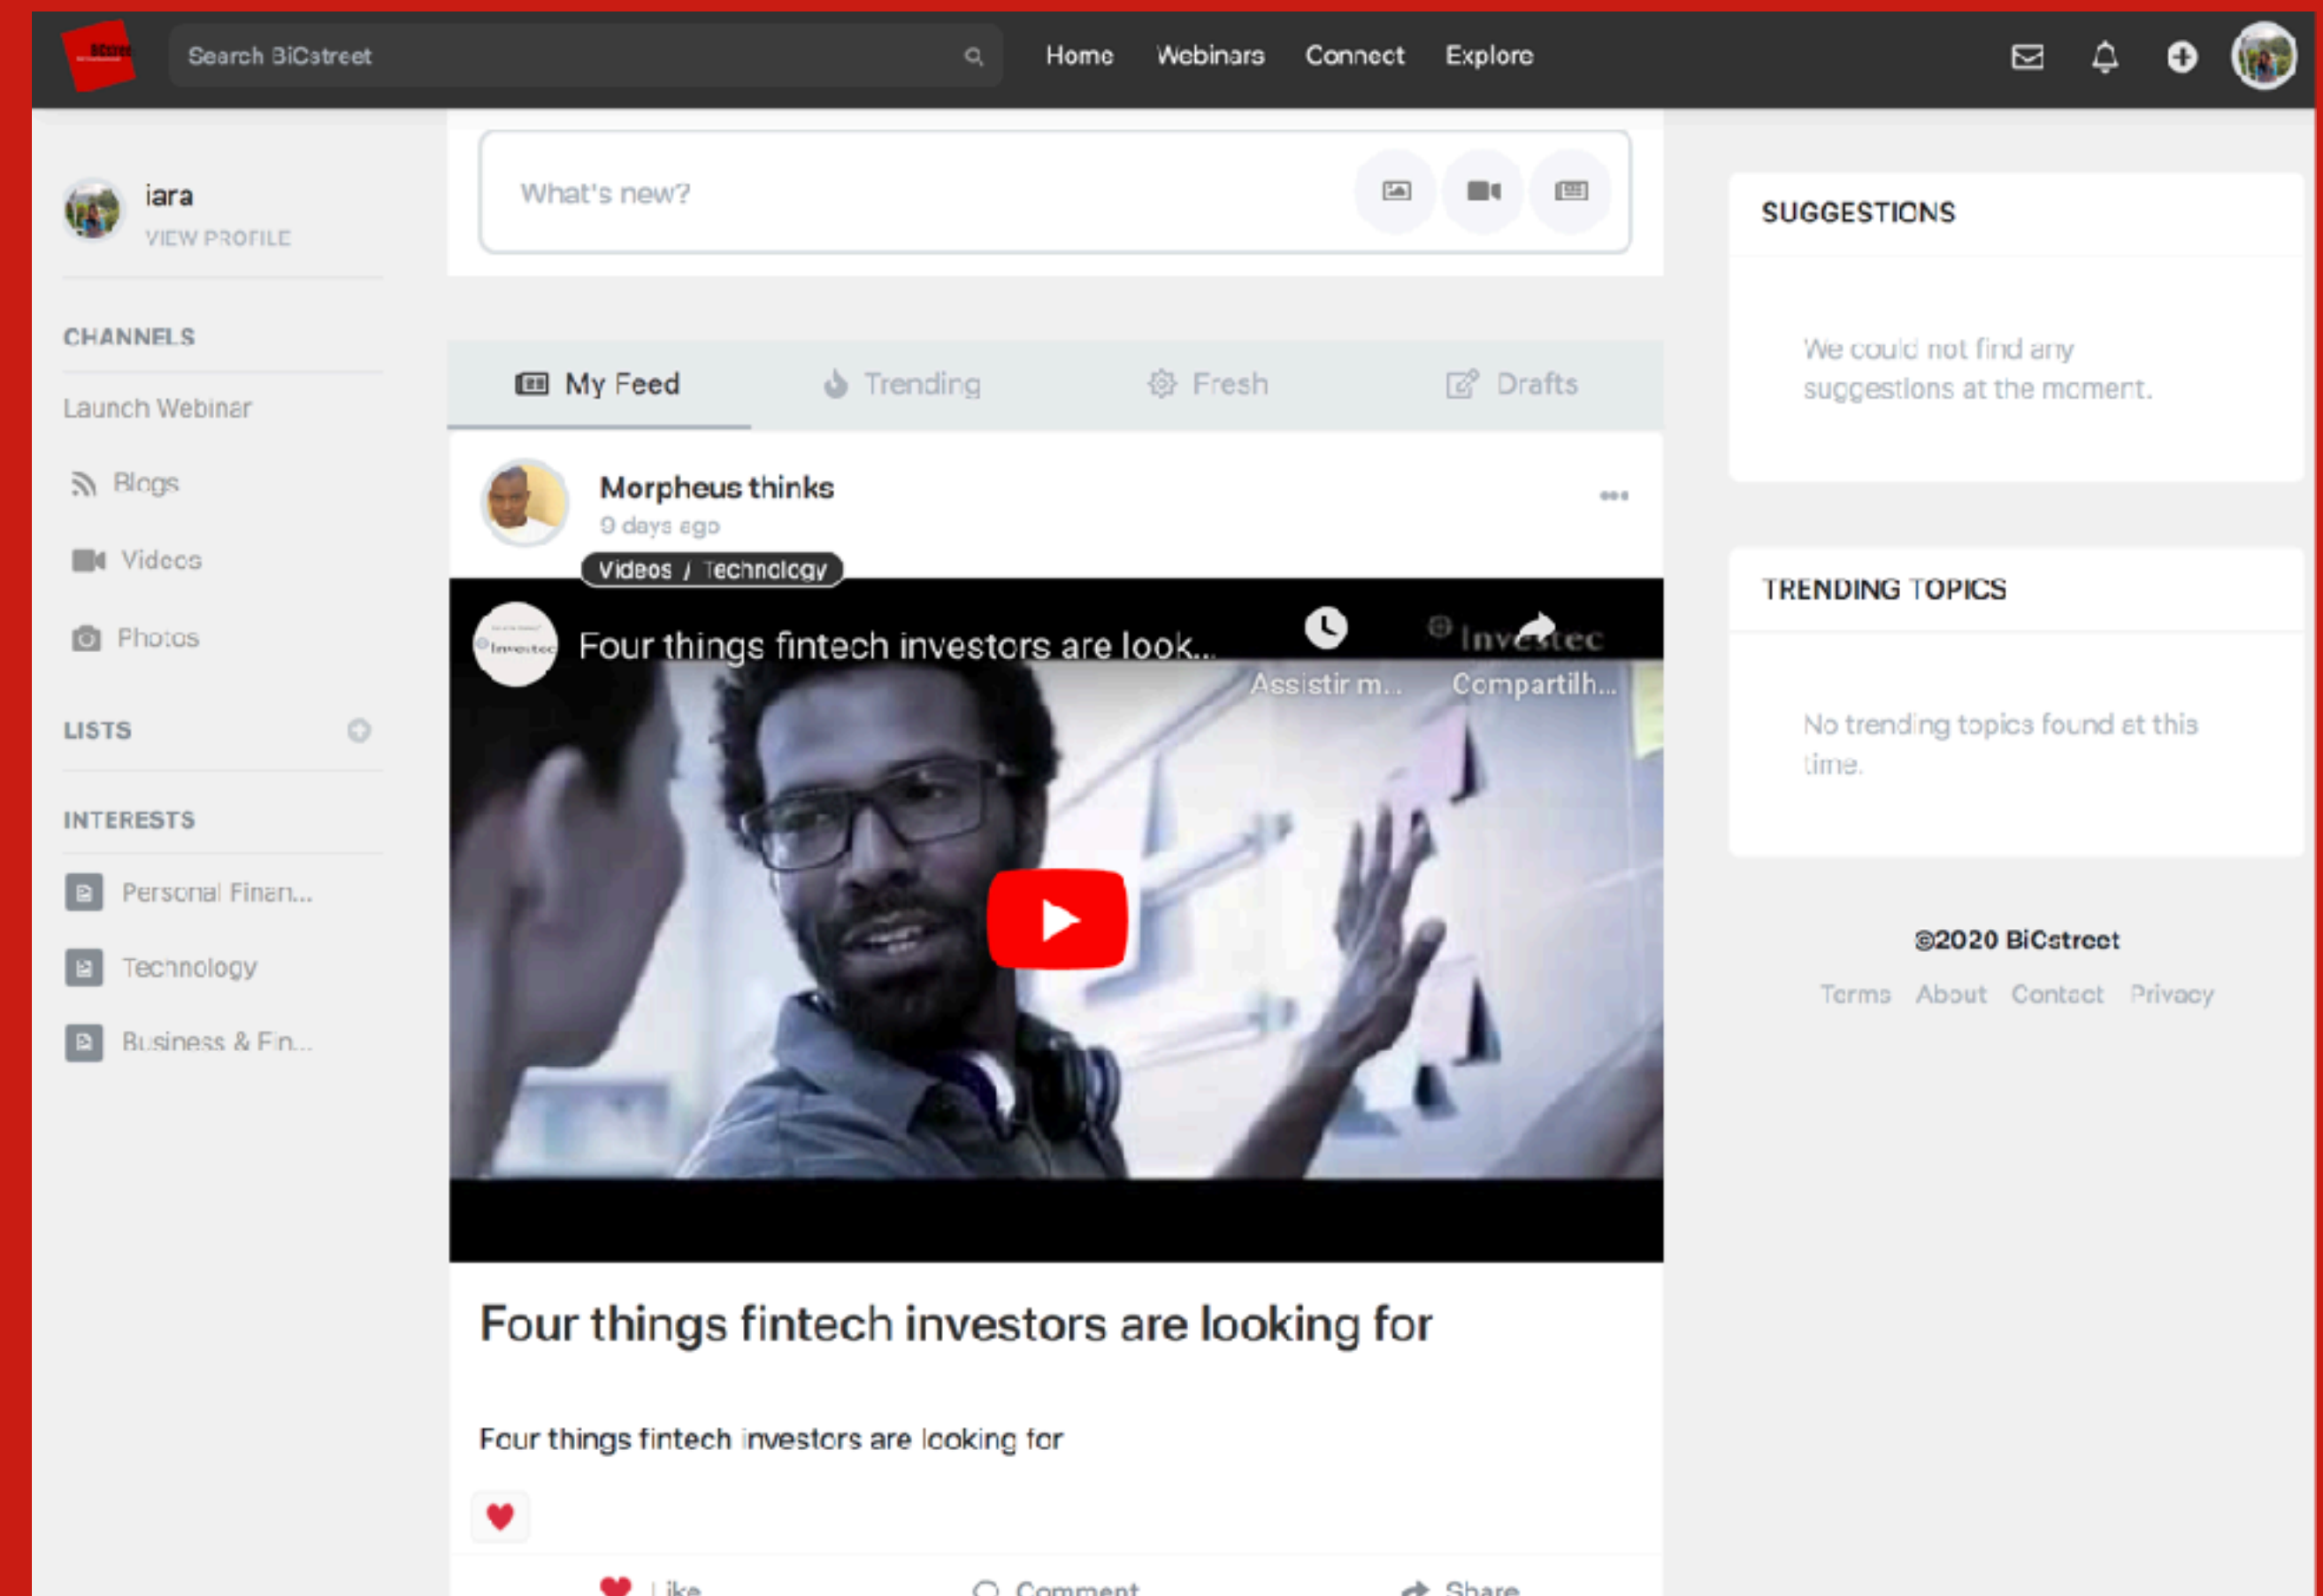

BiCstreet platform will provide members with the opportunity to gain access to and leverage other members' experience, engage with the global community, participate in unique activities and receive the latest investment information.

BiCstreet.com model works as a professional social network, similar to LinkedIn. It will be a place dedicated to users who are looking for financial services or simply interested in improving their financial sophistication and/or personal wealth management, for instance.

BiCstreet.com will also help companies, investors and experts such as wealth managers, financial advisors, accountants, and so on, to source and engage with several potential clients who follow them.

Unlike LinkedIn and other social platforms, BiCstreet.com will be a private and safe online environment. Users will only have access to the network and start engaging with each other once they pay a monthly subscription fee. By doing that, we will build a smaller but much more serious and meaningful network, preventing the emergence of scammers among many other unintended consequences of an open platform. This will help the platform to scale more significantly.
