StegX and Black Manta Capital Partners enter into Strategic Partnership, connecting the world of institutional Real Estate

MUNICH, VIENNA, FRANKFURT, 3 July 2024 – Black Manta Capital Partners (BMCP) is excited to announce a strategic partnership with StegX, a pioneering global ecosystem that redefines how professional real estate managers, investors and proptech companies work together. This collaboration aims to elevate the institutional real estate market by leveraging BMCP's comprehensive regulatory expertise and StegX's NextGen marketplace, which bridges the gap between the traditional and future real estate industries.

BMCP and StegX have consistently been at the forefront of integrating blockchain technology with traditional financial services, providing secure, transparent, and efficient management of digital assets. Together, the companies are set to take the tokenized real estate investment landscape to one step further. By merging BMCP's expertise as a Next Generation Investment Bank with StegX's extensive digital marketplace, this partnership will open up new possibilities for asset managers, real estate developers, and institutional investors.

StegX is a company with extensive experience and a driver of innovation in the institutional real estate market, acting as a global marketplace and one-stop-shop ecosystem. It links investors and stakeholders throughout the value chain, providing access to tokenized institutional real estate opportunities on a worldwide scale. Their robust platform is designed to streamline transactions and ensure regulatory compliance, making them an ideal partner for BMCP's mission to enhance market liquidity and provide investors with more quality investment opportunities in the real estate sector.

"By joining forces with StegX, we look forward to leveraging our combined strengths to further enhance professional investors' access to tokenized real estate projects and all
