Black Manta Capital Partners with SurferMonkey to Unveil Cutting-Edge Privacy Solutions for Institutional Finance

MUNICH, 22 October 2024 – Black Manta Capital Partners ("BMCP"), a leading next-generation investment bank focused on digital and tokenized assets, is excited to announce a strategic collaboration with SurferMonkey, a pioneer in blockchain privacy technology. This partnership aims to revolutionize privacy in institutional finance through innovative zero knowledge proof blockchain technology.

A New Era of Financial Privacy and Security

In an age where data breaches and privacy concerns are at the forefront of financial services, Black Manta Capital Partners and SurferMonkey are set to introduce privacy solutions designed specifically for the needs of institutional clients. This collaboration will leverage BMCP's expertise in tokenization and financial services with SurferMonkey's advanced privacy technologies to ensure that client data and transaction details remain confidential and secure.

Key Highlights of the Collaboration:

- Improved Security: Integrating SurferMonkey's privacy solutions will fortify the security framework around tokenized assets, offering an unprecedented level of privacy for transactions and data exchanges within the financial sector.
- Regulatory Compliance: The solutions developed will adhere to global financial regulations, ensuring that privacy does not come at the cost of compliance. This will enhance BMCP's operations across Europe and its expanding presence in Asia.
- Innovation in Tokenization: By applying privacy-focused technology, this partnership seeks to further innovate in the realm of asset tokenization, making digital asset investment more appealing to privacy-conscious institutions.

- Client-Centric Solutions: Tailored privacy solutions will not only protect sensitive information but also enhance client trust in digital financial platforms, potentially increasing adoption rates of blockchain-based financial products.

Statements from Leadership:

Alexander Rapatz, Founding & Managing Partner at Black Manta Capital Partners, commented, "Our collaboration with SurferMonkey allows us to offer our clients an additional layer of privacy and security in the transaction processing of tokenized assets. We understand the critical nature of data protection in finance, and this partnership is a step forward in setting new industry benchmarks."

Miguel Diaz Montiel, CEO and Co-Founder of SurferMonkey added, "Joining forces with Black Manta Capital allows us to apply our privacy technology in one of the most dynamic sectors of the economy. Together, we're not just protecting data; we're enabling a secure, trustless environment for institutional finance to thrive in the digital age."
