Black Manta Capital Partners and ACM Finance forge Strategic Alliance to further bridge the gap between Crypto and Tokenized Financial Assets

MUNICH, LUXEMBOURG, 31 March 2025 – Black Manta Capital Partners (BMCP) is pleased to announce that it has joined forces with ACM Finance, an award-winning European investment platform, offering an all-in-one digital finance platform. This partnership aims to broaden access to a broad spectrum of digital and tokenized assets for everyone, with the ambition of enhancing and strengthening the digital asset landscape in Europe.

The partnership aims to bridge the gap between crypto and tokenized financial assets, leveraging the strengths of both BMCP and ACM Finance. As a tied agent of BMCP, ACM Finance will expand its service offering, leveraging BMCP's regulatory expertise to enhance its portfolio of tokenized financial products.

Through this partnership, ACM Finance is able to combine the best of the traditional financial world with innovative crypto solutions, backed by their secure and intuitive platform that offers a wide range of financial products, competitive fees, extensive educational resources and a robust support system. By integrating centralized and decentralized exchanges within the ACM Ecosystem, ACM Finance consolidates all digital asset operations in one place, setting a benchmark in the industry.

Furthermore, ACM Finance is already expanding its portfolio by introducing Future Trading, allowing users to engage in advanced trading strategies and manage risk more effectively. This addition enhances ACM Finance's offerings by enabling investors to hedge against market volatility and take advantage of price movements in the digital asset space. By integrating Future Trading into the platform, ACM Finance continues to push the boundaries of innovation, ensuring that clients have access to sophisticated financial instruments tailored to their needs. Notably, ACM Finance is one of the few competitors authorized to offer futures trading under MiFID regulations in the highly regulated European market. This rare regulatory approval gives ACM Finance a distinct competitive edge, solidifying its position as a market leader in compliant crypto derivatives trading.

This collaboration will enhance the market position of both companies, enabling them to better meet their clients' needs in the fast-evolving digital asset space. Additionally, the partnership represents a critical step in fostering innovation within the digital asset space, contributing to the overall growth and development of both BMCP and ACM Finance. By leveraging their combined expertise, the two companies are set to drive the digital finance revolution, creating a more accessible and seamlessly connected financial ecosystem.

Alexander Rapatz, Founding & Managing Partner at Black Manta Capital Partners, commented, "This strategic partnership with ACM Finance is a testament to our commitment to fostering innovation and growth in the digital asset sector. By combining our regulatory expertise with ACM Finance's capabilities, we are well-positioned to accelerate the adoption of digital and tokenized assets."

Benjamin Jakob, Founder & CEO at ACM Finance, added, "The collaboration with Black Manta Capital Partners expands our capabilities and strengthens our position to give access to financial products safer and easier. Our goal is to ensure that everyone - from beginners to professionals - can invest in digital assets with confidence and only needs to use one platform. The introduction of Future Trading represents a major milestone in our mission to offer a comprehensive, state-of-the-art trading experience, empowering our users with advanced tools to navigate the evolving financial landscape. This partnership is a significant step towards creating a more integrated and digitized banking and financial ecosystem."
